BIRD HUNTERS' REPORTS

Stanley Clark: "Yes, we got our limit the first two days hunting in this vicinity. They were woodcock. Ernest F. Clayson of Lisbon was with me and my dog was used.

"I went to Lisbon and hunted over that territory with him for a couple of days and we got the limit. Clayson has a young pointer and a good one, too. As good as could be desired. Woodcock are plentiful and partridge more in evidence than last season. Of the latter, only one has been shot and that one for a sick person. We shall kill no partridge this year. That is the feeling among the bird hunters. Give them a chance to come back.

"Senator Fred Hale planned on hunting with us for a couple of days, but owing to sickness and pressure of the political campaigning, he is unable to do so. Not at the opening of the season. He may do so later on."

Wesley Day: "I've been out twice and got the limit both times. Have killed no partridge. Seen some, though. Hunters should give the partridge a chance."

Albert Nelson of Stoneham is boarding at Henry Merrill's and is attending Norway High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Goodwin of Pittsfield are spending several weeks at the S. W. Goodwin cottage at the lake. They will spend the winter in Florida.

It is anticipated that "Adam and Eva" which will be played under the auspices of the Norway Woman's Club, the first of November, will be a very pleasing production, judging from the rehearsals. It is the story of a wealthy man and his extravagant family, who are in many complications. "Adam and Eva" was played for over a year at the Long Acre Theatre in New York with great success.

The ladies of the Farm Bureau will meet next Wednesday, October 17, at Norway Grange Hall, for an all day meeting. The work will be Christmas Suggestions. Any member who has a good suggestion, is asked to carry it to contribute to the "b[illegible]." It will be remembered that the community giving the five best suggestions will be awarded a prize. The Norway Bureau has three and must have two more at this meeting. The dinner will be a "square meal for health." The Christmas suggestion meeting is always one of the interesting meetings of the year and without doubt this year will be as popular as ever.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rowe have been guests of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rowe, Jr., of Saco, returning with them, after they had visited a few days in Norway. They had a fine trip to Portsmouth, N. H. and South Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Cummings expect to leave, Saturday, for Mars Hill, for a few days' visit with Mrs. Cummings' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ford. It is about a 300 mile trip.

M. W. Sampson says: "I have closed the last summer camp at the lake for the season, but have opened the Terhune cottage for the winter." He also says he has taken an order to build a float during the winter.

A chimney fire at H. Ray Bennett's early Tuesday morning was put out with chemicals by Arsene Blaquiere of the fire department. The blaze was in the upper part of the flue, but no damage resulted from sparks.

An exhibit in the window at F. P. Stone's pharmacy recalls the days of the village apothecary. Books containing prescriptions from number one in 1873 to number 76,774 of the present year form the background for a collection of antiques used in compounding prescriptions written by Drs. Peables, Crockett, Jewett and others. There are brass moulds for making pills and suppositories, an iron mortar and pestle, old glass tunnels and other relics which recall the days of Crockett's bitters and mandrake pills.

John A. Woodman has left town again. He took along his wife and a relative of hers. Kennebunk is the objective. John surely is burning too much gasoline!

Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Clark of Hyattsville, Maryland, who are spending their vacation with Mr. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, So. Paris, went to Auburn, Thursday, to see Mrs. Clark's mother, Mrs. Daniel Smith. They took Mrs. Lindsay Morse, baby Clayton and Miss Lola D. Smith with them.

TRADE MERCHANTS' CHARACTERISTICS

We number among our friends hundreds of merchants in various lines of trades. There is no finer class of men in the world than the retail merchants—but they do have their peculiarities. Some have more than others, of course. Do you recognize any of the following?

THE BUSY MERHANT—He is the retailer who believes if a thing is to be well done he must do it himself. That includes sweeping out and washing the windows. He will tell you that he is over-worked. The thought of leaving his store for ten mnutes pains him. His clerks are never half as busy as he is. They would like to be, but the boss won't let them. This merchant loves to impress the public with his busy-ness, so he bustles. He moves as though he were going to a fire. Detail is his middle name. He never gets his head above it, consequently he never has time to think constructively of business development. There are usually a half dozen or so super-busy merchants in every town.

After a number of years of failing health, John Q. Pratt passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. Ray Bennett, Deering Street, Oct. 5, at five in the afternoon. His age was 81 years.

Mr. Pratt suffered arterio sclerosis but was in his usual health up to the time he was taken ill on the street. He was taken to his daughter's home and given medical attention, and for a time seemed to rally, but lived just one week from the time he was stricken.

The deceased was born in Hebron, Dec. 29, 1847, the son of Benjamin F., and Rhoda Bryant Pratt. After attending school in Hebron, he resided for a time in South Paris, coming to Norway thirty-two years ago. He was a carpenter and followed his trade to the time of failing health.

Since the death of his wife, he has made his home with his daughter, Mrs. H. Ray Bennett, who has given him every care and attention.

He was deeply interested in the affairs of the day, was a good neighbor and friend.

His keen sense of humor was a source of much enjoyment to his friends, both old and young, for he dearly loved a joke at his own expense or another's.

He was particularly fond of children and young people and they found him an interesting companion at all times.

Mr. Pratt will be greatly missed in the family, and in the neighborhood, where his unfailing good nature made him always a welcome guest.

Members of Oxford Bar Association, all the jurors and a large number of friends gathered Tuesday afternoon at the opening of the session in memorial service for two deceased members of the Bar, Hon. John P. Swasey, late of Canton, and Capt. Wilfred G. Conary, late of Norway.

Ralph T. Barker, Esq., of Rumford, read an eloquent eulogy to Mr. Swasey, the "grand old man" who passed away May 27, in his 89th year. Mr. Parker presented resolutions of respect to be placed on the court records. Aretas E. Stearns, Esq., of Rumford, also responded feelingly and emphasized the outstanding characteristics of the deceased.

Harry M. Shaw, Esq., of South Paris, read a fitting eulogy to the late Captain Conary and presented resolutions for the family and records of the court. Albert J. Stearns, Esq., of Norway, a close business associate, gave a short biography and paid tribute to the social, legal and military attainments of the departed brother.

The tribute by Albert J. Stearns, Esq. read at the Memorial Service, Tuesday afternoon.

May it please the Court:

I desire to add a few words in seconding the formal resolutions which have just been presented, and trust that I may be pardoned if I make some personal allusions.

Brother Conary died at the Augusta State Hospital, September 17, 1928 after a comparatively brief illness in the nature of a serious mental disorder, manic depressive type, of only about seven week's duration, which while not recognized by his family, his physician, his closest friends, or associates, had nevertheless undoubtedly been working its deadly destruction within him and causing him far more suffering and distraction, than any one, with the possible exception of his family, ever knew, and doubtless accounted for certain peculiarities of conduct that were hard for us at the time to understand.

Coming to Norway in 1920 he took an office first over Freeland Howe's

TOOTING OUR OWN HORN

I am the Home Weekly—
The little old paper
That welcomed you
When you were born—
Watched you grow up,
Marry, become a parent,
Then a grandparent—
Always recording your
Good acts and successes;
Suppressing your evil
Deeds, condoning your
Misfortunes and failures.
Rejoicing when you rejoiced,
And sympathizing in
Your times of sorrow.
Ready to boost you in any
Honorable enterprise, while
Slow to encourage projects
Of a doubtful character.
Your friend and helper,
But rarely appreciated
At a true value by those
Most benefitted by my efforts.
Read by everyone within my
Field of circulation—
Whether they be paid subscribers
Or only pests who borrow
Me from their neighbors.
Like the "poor" of the Scriptures—
I shall always be with you,
I am the Home Weekly.

THE FAIREST FLOWERS

By Harry G. Chase

The fairest flowers are blooming.
Are blooming but to die.
Our treasures, too, are taken
And in the dust they lie.
The seasons bring their changes.
Each fraught with joy and pain.
As one by one they vanish
To re-appear again.
The beauties of the springtime
Recede before our view,
The sunny days of Autumn
Bid us a kind adieu.
The flowers of earth remind us
They bloom but to decay,
The moments passing tell us
Life is fading fast away.

Malcolm L. Stoddard spoke of Child Welfare and Hospitals, and Corporal George W. Morrell told of incidents in the life of his "Buddy," Carroll West, where at the head of his platoon they broke up a Boche raiding party. He told also of the death of his Buddy. Kipling's injunction "Lest We Forget" is not needed with those who were eye witnesses and participants in the World War.

A profitable way of marketing farm timber is for the owner to cut and haul the products to market himself. This provides winter employment for hired help and teams, and enables the owner to obtain profits that would otherwise go to the purchaser of standing timber.

Public Men I Have Known

No. 1

By C. F. Whitman

During my twenty years of service as Clerk of the Courts in our good old County of Oxford, I came in contact with many men and was associated with a number of county officers to whose efficiency and manly qualities I desire in an enduring way, to pay my humble tribute. Some of them are living, but the greater number long since have crossed the Great Divide, yet even these have left behind relatives perhaps, but certainly admirers who cherish their memories, and will read, I believe, with great interest what I have to say about them, for they know it will be a sincere and truthful statement of my estimate of their worth.

Courts in the county had always had the reputation of being opened with great formality and conducted with the greatest dignity. To be sure, the early practice of escorting, with fife and drum, the judges, from their boarding places to the court room, had long before my time fallen into disuse, but the Judges during my official services began the practice of wearing long, black robes in court, which custom has since been followed. It greatly adds dignity to the presiding justices.

My greatest worryment at my first term in February, 1895, was that I might fail to perform my duties acceptably to the Judge, and to follow ancient custom so well as to give no one just cause for criticism. There were a few in attendance who would have been glad to have seen or heard something to sneer at, but I never heard of anything of the kind, from first to last. My voice never failed me and I was always given the closest attention, as was Mr. Henry E. Hammond, the crier, whenever we had any part to perform. It is my pride today that our duties in court did not fall below those of any of the eminent officials who had preceded us. And after Mr. Hammond died, Mr. Samuel H. Eaton of Oxford filled his place to everybody's satisfaction. Sheriff B. G. McIntire was so solicitous that the machinery of the court should run in the best possible manner that he kept Mr. Hammond as crier, when he might have rewarded one of his own deputies. Sheriff W. O. Frothingham, I believe, discovered Eaton's good qualities and after he had been tested and tried, I wouldn't have had Sam set aside for anybody, and I am sure that the Judges felt exactly as I did. And I will here state that the Judges I served under, put the utmost confidence in me. They knew I regarded them with the greatest reverence and never betrayed their trust in me. There are but two of them now living, Hon. Warren Philbrook and Hon. Albert M. Spear. I hold them in the highest regard. And one thing more may here be finally stated about myself. All attorneys, parties, court officers and jurymen, no matter of what faith, political or religious, or whether friend or foe, were treated as well as I knew how, and this bore fruit,—though I had no purpose of gaining popularity—for every time I was a candidate, my vote was larger than every other one—including Governor and Congressman—on the ticket. I never paid a dollar for anyone's vote and the support I received came to me unsought and unsolicited. In my old age, I am proud—I am mighty proud—that I can truthfully state this and that the Judges of the Maine Supreme Judicial Court who had no superiors, in legal learning and eminent ability, in any State of the Union, had such trust and confidence in me.

The presiding Justice at my first term of the court, which was held on Paris Hill, was Hon. Lucilius A. Emery. He was a learned judge and afterwards was appointed Chief Justice. He was not warm-hearted and loveable like Chief Justice Leslie C. Cornish, but cold-blooded as a sucker, which species of fish inhabits our streams in early springtime, soon after the ice has gone out to sea.

It happened that his last term of court was held at Rumford and after the final adjournment proclamation was made, in bidding him good-bye, I warmly pressed his hand. He started, as if he had been stung. Evidently he wasn't accustomed to such warm hand clasps as mine.

I never heard of his telling but one good story and this shows that Judge Emery had a streak of humor in him. One time he went over to England and visited its courts and took note how they were conducted. Then he went to Ireland on the same errand. In the western part of that island, where the mass of the people still speak the old Gaelic language, he attended a criminal term of the court, where it was the custom for the Judge to sit arrayed in a scarlet robe. A trial was in progress and it was necessary that a witness who didn't understand English should give his testimony through an interpreter. After he had been sworn, the witness said something to the interpreter, to which the latter impatiently tried to stop him with "Ssh. Ssh."

"What is that the witness says, Mr. Interpreter?" inquired the Judge.

"O nothing, my lud, (Lord) that has anything to do with this case."

"Never mind, you have been sworn to state whatever the witness says."

"It don't have the least thing to do with this case, my Lud, and I don't want to repeat it."

"But you must, your oath compels you to, what was it?"

"Well, then, if I must, I must. He said 'What old woman is that sitting up there in that scarlet gown?'"

Millard C. Lyseth received word, Monday, of the sudden death of his brother, George L. Lyseth, of Auburn, who passed away at the C. M. G. Hospital, following a serious surgical operation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Westleigh have packed up their goods and moved back to their farm home and closed their restaurant, "The Pines of Maine," on the Oxford County fair grounds, for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Westleigh expect to spend the winter at their farm where Mr. Westleigh has some cords of wood to haul to market and other work they wish to attend to, but intend to open up their restaurant on the fair grounds again at an early date in the spring as they enjoy living there and it is much more convenient for their customers to get their home cooked food there during the summer.

Mrs. George P. Locke is in Springfield, Mass., for a few weeks visiting her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chamberlain.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Hosmer and daughter, Pauline, Mrs Gertrude Hosmer and Mrs. Caroline Descoteau enjoyed a trip around the White Mountains, Sunday.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

Judge Whitman says: "I am exasperated beyond measure at thieves frequently breaking into our cottage on the east side of the lake. This has happened twice this season and I will give two hundred dollars for the detection and punishment of the criminals or any future burglars who may be caught there. It will be that satisfaction to have these miscreants sent to the state prison at Thomaston for a season. Although I go fishing but very little, I take as much pride in it as the great fisherman of the Allegash and other streams and lakes of Maine and it's mighty vexing to have for instance one's little fishing trip that he has been anticipating with great pleasure, spoiled by finding that some infernal, worthless scoundrel has stolen an easily handled bamboo pole, with line, hook and sinker, which has taken much care and trouble to procure."

Rexford Waite brought in a pipe, Saturday, that he said he found near the Dunn place. Someone probably mourned the loss of an old friend Sunday, as it remained here in the office waiting an owner.

The Roy Flynt Service of Augusta called Wednesday, on its way to Denmark. A look-in was had at the Wearies and those waiting, slumbering folks immediately renewed their youth and looked cherfully into the future.

Assistant foreman P. W. Steward, laid down his duties, Saturday forenoon, to go to Portland with his wife, who had to take treatment for her eyes at a specialist's.

Frank A. Briggs, South Paris, says, "Just a bit of news which will interest many people in this vicinity. Robert Tuttle has sold his farm and furnishings at North Turner and started Thursday morning in an auto with his wife and six children for Southern California. They have no definite location in view, but just gone to seek their fortune wherever it may be."

The World's Series has been the chief topic of conversation and a vehicle for many wise boys to expiate on the merits or failures in the teams. Radio broadcasts were followed closely and bulletin boards tabulated the progress of the games by innings. Ronell Bickwell's summary painted on the window at the S. J. Record Co. was popular, day and night.

Corridon T. Shortridge of South Paris stopped in town for a while, Friday afternoon, while returning from Fryeburg. He was superintendent of the mid-way during the fair there, a place he has filled successfully for many years. Mr. Shortridge said the society collected a lot of money from all sources this year and out of debt. Ideal weather packed the grounds with hardly a foot of empty space the middle day. Lots of money was spent on improvements during the summer, but the treasury will be ahead of the game.

Joseph Y. Keazer of Colebrook, N. H., made us a pleasant call, Monday. Mr. Keazer is over 90, and last winter was seriously ill, but has made a good gain and is able to get around with the use of a crutch and a cane. He is interested in his farm and was anxious to get a few barrels of apples for his home use. He is spending the week with his daughter, Mrs. Mabel K. Leavitt.

F. W. S.: "I find on my desk a card and it says: 'Presented to the old man on my 75th birthday, June 4, 1928. F. P. Stone.' The card is attached to a nice cigar. I know it is late, but not too late to acknowledge with thanks and express the hope for many more birthdays."

George A. Kenerson is busily engaged at his shop at his residence on Hayden Ave., making fancy inlaid book ends, fancy boxes, and Christmas toys. He was in Saturday afternoon and told us of his work and placed an ad in the intelligence column. He plans to do all kinds of small mill work and is anxious to pick up some things to do along this line.

Mrs. Colby Robinson of Bingham was in town, recently. Mrs. Robinson, nee Verna Kimball, was for several years bookkeeper and proof reader in this office and all were glad to meet her again. She spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon L. Kimball, in Albany and enjoyed a day with her Norway friends. Mrs. Robinson has been assistant in the postoffice at Bingham, but this week went to Portland where they will go to housekeeping. Mr. Robinson is salesman for Heinz Bros., and is located in Portland territory.

John Bennett brought in a pair of glasses that he and some other boys found, Saturday, on Maple Street. The glasses are here waiting an owner.

That brings to mind an item that we had in this column last week regarding glasses that Mrs. Eva Smith found. Friday noon Miss Clara Jordan called in and asked about the glasses that she saw someone had found. She said that she found out she had lost hers and on reading the "Heard and Seen" column Thursday night, felt quite sure that the ones referred to were hers and she was much pleased to locate them.

Bert W. Bemis of Lovell called Tuesday to renew his subscription. He was on the way to the Court House, where he had a land and timber case on the docket. As a matter of fact the action has been hanging for two years and a settlement seemed likely.

We have some small blocks of paper for sale at this office for 25c per pound. The sizes vary, but 3 x 4¾ and 4 x 5½ seem to be the predominating sizes. These are just the things for use where one wants a small sized sheet for notations and for scribbling purposes,—school children always use scratch paper—better get a supply for home, school, store or office use.

Another added burden to our Justices. They have to eat with, and address Lions, Rotarians, Kiwanis organizations and attend Bar Banquets as well as to look pleased and smile graciously at the female "Up-Lift Clubs," whenever so requested.

Eugene B. Lane, a Berlin, N. H., subscriber, called on us the other day. With him were three women: Mrs. O. E. Titus, Mrs. Albert D. Teare and Miss Hallie E. Wilson, the artist. She is of Norway descent, via her grandmother, who was Ina Estelle Crockett, daughter of David and Laura (Swift) Crockett, and was born in the John A. Bunch house at Swift corner, 75 years ago. She is now living in Berlin, N. H. She took home a Lapham's History of Norway as a present for her mother.

Adelaide Kimball Martin sends us a package containing several wild strawberry blossoms, which she picked at her home on Sanderson Hill in South Waterford. The blossoms are good sized and showed signs of becoming ripe berries with the proper amount of sunshine and warm weather. This was rather an unusual offering for this season of the year.

Don C. Seitz: "Too much office" on the first page, last week's Advertiser. Don't urge Town Folks to co-operate without telling them what to do."

Mrs. Maude DeCoster entertained the Barton Reading Club, Thursday afternoon. The program included quotations and readings from Hiawatha.

B. G. McIntire represented the Norway-Paris Kiwanis Club at the Kiwanis convention at Lynn, Mass., the past week.

The Daughters of Veterans are holding a Harvest dinner, Friday, at K. of P. Hall and in addition to the regular vegetable and cold meat menu, they will have baked beans and brown bread, pies, doughnuts, coffee and cheese. At supper time, there will be a 10c supper for the members and their families. The regular meeting of the Daughters will follow, and as there will be full rehearsal, a full attendance is requested.

The Veranda Club met with Mrs. Molly Rich, Thursday evening, October 4. Plans were made to meet with Maggie Libby for the annual chicken pie supper at her new home, Thursday evening, Oct. 18, supper at 6:30. Maggie Libby, Agnes McCready, Clara Ames, committee. Monday evening the Club met at Mrs. Nellie Merrill's to tack a quilt. They will meet with Eva Fogg to tack another on Wednesday evening. After the business meeting, the hostess served lunch.

Last year (1927) there was expended on the 99.7 miles of highway in Norway, $15,548.99. This sum is sliced up and expended by three road commissioners. In other words, the hundred miles of road are divided into three parts as is the money. Maybe it's the best way. We doubt it.

After hitting the truck, the Ames car was thrown off into a car driven by Alden M. Pulsifer, of Minot. This car received a damaged mud-guard.

"Contentment and happiness of labor depend as much on conditions OUTSIDE the factory as inside"

"The security of capital depends on the contentment of labor. The contentment and happiness of labor depend as much on conditions outside the factory as inside. Labor gains in respect, contentment and interest as it moves away from population congestion. Industry, for its own good, goes to small towns."

Thus a prominent industrial executive comments on his company's policy of placing its factories in the smaller centers of population.

The trend toward decentralization of labor is based on sound business principles, directed toward lower costs and better production. In this day of widespread distribution of electric power and efficient transportation facilities, industry may realize the distinct advantages of small town factory locations.

Under improved and more economical living conditions, employes are responsible, conservative, permanent. Their wages represent a greater real income than in the larger cities. In a less hurried atmosphere valuable human energy is conserved for productive use. More space is available for industrial operations and there is plenty of room for expansion.

Information on small town factory sites, from the specific standpoint of your particular business, will be supplied by INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT, CENTRAL MAINE POWER COMPANY, AUGUSTA, ME. Correspondence is invited.

MAINE
is well known for its conservative, permanent labor. Strikes are almost unknown. Labor, both skilled and unskilled, is plentiful. Power is cheap and the supply plentiful. Maine's policy toward new enterprises is one of encouragement and active cooperation. Maine's climate favors health, energy and physical labor.

This advertisement is similar to a series now running in leading national publications in the interests of bringing new industries to Maine.

WATERFORD

4-H Club Held Exhibit—Outing Club Meeting—Waterford People.

The 4-H Club held a Circle Supper and exhibition of their work, at the Masonic Hall, Wednesday evening, which was well attended by parents and friends of the children. Some excellent work has been done by the Club, and it seemed to the onlooker that every piece of work was worth a blue ribbon. The project this year has been "Room Improvement," and the girls have made quilts, pillow slips, etc., for their rooms, and have learned to do reed work, and also have re-seated chairs, in cane, and in splint work, and showed some fine specimens. The leaders, Mrs. June Pike and Mrs. Blanche Tyler, must feel very proud of the Club, and they have worked very hard to make it a success.

The Crooked River Outing Club met on Tuesday evening of last week, at C. D. Morse's cottage, "Camp Rest A-while," and enjoyed a supper and a social evening. Rev. W. I. A GREAT ACHIEVEMENT

Diagram showing water currents through radiator. Inset—Thermostat controlling water temperature.

IMPROVED COLD WEATHER PERFORMANCE Resulting from the

CROSS-FLOW RADIATOR

The cross-flow radiators in the cooling systems of the Pontiac Six and the Oakland All-American Six reduce to a minimum the evaporation of water and alcohol. An automatic thermostat prevents water circulation until the engine reaches correct operating temperature. As a consequence the engine warms up quickly and less choking is needed, reducing dilution of crankcase oil. Because of the protection the cross-flow radiator provides against losses of water and alcohol, the Pontiac Six and the All-American Six require less attention in winter than other cars. Also, through their thermostatic control, they reveal far better performance than other cars in their fields when the temperature is low . . . The cross-flow radiator is available only on the Pontiac Six and the All-American Six. Come in and see it. And learn while you're here of the many other advancements which only these two great General Motors Sixes provide.

SPIRITUAL GIFTS

LESSON TEXT—I Cor. 12:1-31; 13:1-8.

GOLDEN TEXT—Now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; and the greatest of these is charity.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Love Is the Best of All.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Greatest Thing in the World.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Greatest Gift.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Spiritual Gifts.

Joel predicted a [illegible] of the spirit in [illegible] 2:28, 29; cf. Acts 2:17.

Before the [illegible] used to send the Holy [illegible] helper and guide [illegible] was historically [illegible] Pentecost. The gifts [illegible] extended to all classes [illegible] these endowments [illegible] profession, but by [illegible] the exercise of the [illegible] would surely arise. [illegible] deeply poured into [illegible] stirred it to unusual [illegible] of the abuses and [illegible] likely to arise from [illegible] it is highly important [illegible] principles be set forth [illegible] and regulation.

I. The Infallible Criterion (I Cor. 12:3).

The infallible test [illegible] whether gifts are [illegible] is one's conception [illegible] ward Jesus Christ. [illegible] recognize Him as Lord [illegible] flesh, His vicarious [illegible] cross, and submit to [illegible] Lord, can he receive [illegible] the gift of the Holy [illegible] before leaving the [illegible] Spirit came His [illegible] would be to testify of Him [illegible] things of Christ and [illegible] the people. The [illegible] faith of a man is the [illegible] mission from God.

II. The Diversity of Spiritual Gifts (I Cor. 12:4-11).

In the church there [illegible] these possessing the [illegible] knowledge, faith, healing, prophecy, discerning [illegible] kinds of tongues and the interpretation of tongues.

III. The Unity of the Spiritual Gifts (I Cor. 12:12-27).

Christian unity is the [illegible] effected by the one Holy Spirit. This unity amidst diversity is represented under the figure of the human body. Mr.

1. The human body has many members, each performing [illegible] functions for the good of the [illegible]

2. The members are [illegible] related and independent (vv. 14-17).

3. The place of each member is determined by the choice of God (v. 18).

4. The members which are least attractive and least conspicuous are most important (vv. 21-23).

IV. Love, the Spirit's Best Gift (I Cor. 12:31-13).

1. The pre-eminence of love (vv. 1-3).

It transcends.

(1) Speaking with tongues.
(2) The gift of prophecy.
(3) Faith of the most vigorous kind.
(4) Philanthropy of the most generous sort.
(5) Heroic devotion, leading to martyrdom.

2. The attributes of love (vv. 4-7).

(1) Long-suffering and kind.
(2) Free from envy.
(3) Freedom from boasting.
(4) Decorous and well behaved.
(5) Unselfish.
(6) Does not give way to passion; is not quick tempered.
(7) Thinks no evil; does not impute evil motives to others; is not suspicious.
(8) Delights not in evil.
(9) Beareth all things.
(10) Is trustful, hopeful and true.

3. The permanence of love (vv. 8-13).

Prophecy as prediction will be fulfilled. Prophecy as teaching will be brought to an end in the consummation; teaching is not needed. Tongues shall cease, for as the languages of earth were caused by God's judgment for sin, so shall Christ's redemption bring the nations back to one tongue. Knowledge shall be done away with the coming of a wider and nobler intelligence. The twilight will be lost in day, childhood, in maturity. Love will always abide, for God is love.

5. The comparative value of prophecy and tongues (14:1-25).

Prophecy is given the higher place because it is to declare God's message to men. Its primary meaning is to forthtell. To speak with tongues means to speak in other languages for the purpose of showing the presence of God.

One Who Never Forgets

Others may forget us in their prayers; there is One in heaven who never does forget. Others may fail us when their lamp burns out; He ever liveth. We are enabled by the prayers of One who loves us and has the ear of God and therefore is able to save to the uttermost.—George H. Morrison.

SPIRITUAL GIFTS

LESSON TEXT—I Cor. 12:3-7,31; 13:1-13.

GOLDEN TEXT—Now abideth faith, hope, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Love Is the Best Thing.

JUNIOR AND INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—Spiritual Gifts.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—[illegible]

[illegible] remarkable effusion of the Holy Spirit recorded in the Acts of the Apostles (Joel 2:28-32; Acts 2:1-4). Before Jesus promised the Holy Spirit to be the possession of His people. This promise was fulfilled on the day of Pentecost. The gifts of the Spirit were manifested in various ways. Not only were the gifts themselves marked by great variety and great diversity. In the Corinthian church confusion existed in public worship. During life, sudden and unusual manifestations of power, in view of the confusion which arose from such a condition, it was necessary that certain principles be set forth for guidance in the future.

I. The Criterion (I Cor. 12:1-3).

The test which determines whether the manifestations or genuine is the confession and attitude toward Christ. Only those who were under the control of God manifest in the Spirit bear testimony on the side of Christ to Him as their Lord. Those who are controlled as possessing the Holy Spirit, Christ said would glorify Him (John 16:13-15). It is the supreme business of the Holy Spirit to take the things of Him to take the things of Christ and show them unto us. The soundness of the Christian life is the sign of this control.

II. Diversity of Spiritual Gifts (vv. 4-11).

There are to be found among the gifts the gift of wisdom, of knowledge, healing, miracles, discernment of spirits, divers kinds of tongues and the interpretation of tongues.

1. Unity of the Spirit's Gifts (vv. 4-6).

Diversity is only possible when there is one Holy Spirit. This necessity of diversity is represented in the nature of the human body. The human body has many members, each performing distinct functions. All of the body (v. 12). All the members are mutually related and important (vv. 13-17). The position of each member is determined by the choice of God (v. 18). Those members which are least attractive and least conspicuous are necessary and important (vv. 21-23).

III. Love, the Spirit's Best Gift (vv. 8-10, 13).

1. The preeminence of love (vv. 1-3).

(1) Of speaking with tongues.

(2) Of the gift of prophecy.

(3) Of faith of the most vigorous kind.

(4) Of philanthropy of the most generous sort.

(5) Of deadly devotion leading to martyrdom.

2. The attributes of love (vv. 4-7).

(1) Long suffering and kind.

(2) Free from envy.

(3) Free from boasting.

(4) Courteous and well behaved.

(5) Does not give way to passion; is not provoked.

(6) Thinks no evil; does not impute evil motives to others; is not suspicious.

(7) Rejoices not in evil.

(8) Rejoices in all things.

(9) Is always faith hopeful and firm.

(10) Is the permanence of love (vv. 8-10).

Prophecy as prediction will be fulfilled, prophecy as teaching will be superseded in the day when perfect knowledge is not needed. Tongues shall cease as the languages of earth were silenced by God's judgment for sin, so shall Christ's redemption bring the world back to one tongue. Knowledge shall be done away with the coming of a wider and nobler intelligence. This intelligence will be lost in childhood, in maturity. Love will remain always, for God is love.

3. The comparative value of prophecy and tongues (14:1-25).

Prophecy is given the highest place because it is to declare God's message to men. Its primary meaning is to foretell. To speak with tongues means to speak in other languages for the purpose of showing the presence of God.

One Who Never Forgets

The new Buick is the new Style

Nowhere such beauty and luxury ---- nowhere such pleasing lines and contours ----nowhere Bodies that equal these new Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher--The entire country is saying, "That's the Style"

Setting an entirely new, a revolutionary, style—introducing what will unquestionably be the trend of smart body-design during the next several years—the new Bodies of the Silver Anniversary Buick are enjoying universal acclaim as the most original and distinctive, as well as the finest and most beautiful ever created by the world-famous Fisher organization!

Here is not only a new car but a new vogue—a vogue of symmetry, born of gently rounded contours instead of plain straight lines—a vogue of distinction, derived from sparkling colors, brilliant chrome-plated nickel and arresting new roof, radiator and fender design—a vogue of tasteful luxury, composed of finest mohair velvet upholstery, artistic hardware and fitments and new appointments of comfort and convenience not to be found in any other automobile——and the vogue is proving so popular—the motoring public welcoming it so enthusiastically—that this beautiful new Buick continues to outsell all other cars above the very lowest price field by an overwhelming margin!

The entire country is hailing the Silver Anniversary Buick. The entire country is saying, "That's the style!"

World's Fair

Ideal Weather Brought Out Crowd of 7,000 Fine Exhibits, Enlarged Midway, Fair Has Outgrown the Street and May Have Regular Grounds.

Bigger and better, with progressive methods stamped on every department must be handed to the World's Fair at North Waterford, which held its time honored show October 5-6. The estimated attendance of 7,000 Saturday eclipsed all previous records.

Modern ideas in framing up the show and handling people and automobiles was conspicuous and beyond anything heretofore attempted.

The show de luxe, an overgrown adult from the infant, "Tom Green's Fair" of fifty odd years ago utilized about all available space in the hamlet. The village green harbored showmen of all grades and descriptions, while the dooryards and the roadside for half a mile in three directions provided parking space for more than one thousand motor vehicles. Everybody was there from aged grandpa to infant Willie, greeting friends and acquaintances for no fair in the state has anything on the "World's Mammoth" for this annual opportunity. For reasons not understood, the square has ever been a stamping ground and setting for old home gatherings. In spite of modernism and a host of similar exhibitions springing up within the past ten years, Waterford fair has grown like a mushroom and its fame spread far beyond the confines of the state. As a matter of fact, the show has outgrown the village square and the Association is negotiating for the W. S. Perkins field and dwelling northerly from the Congregational church. If the property is acquired, a field of several acres will be available and the whole show moved there. The grounds will be fenced and exhibition buildings erected, but the Ladies' Circle will continue to hold its prestige for dinner and supper in the church dining hall, located about opposite the proposed entrance.

This year the midway was enlarged and included part of the "Tom Green" field adjoining the square and west of the "Flat" road. Spreading out the tents relieved the canned sardine congestion and kept the crowd in moving.

The problem of handling the auto traffic was solved by the State Highway Department. Two officers detailed to help the local officials were Sergeant D. E. O'Connell and officer George Wood. Parking was done without confusion and no accidents were reported.

Tying admission tags on the multitude was no small job, for all roads lead to Waterford. Sellers armed with badges of authority were stationed on the outskirts of the village and approximately 6,000 red and green paper disks were sold, Saturday. It is reported that about 1,000 were exchanged for quarters on Friday, the opening day. The happy idea of getting revenue from this source has added a bit to the treasury and made possible larger premiums. Real exhibition grounds may be one of the future results of gathering fares by the roadside.

ON THE FUN TRAIL

Everything was there, venders, gamesters, victualers, sideshow people, fortune tellers and rides. Tents were located on several trails laid out on the village campus, and along one main thoroughfare in the Green field. The place was packed with attractions to coax away money, most of the outfits having jumped from Fryeburg fair and were just flush with the success from three days of rainless business.

Youngsters made merry on the ferris wheel and on Jim York's chair plane. The merry-go-round that served the public for a score of years was not taken from storage. Patrons depending on the machine for an annual shaking up, met disappointment, but secured a more genteel thrill on other rides provided.

Sideshows exhibited freak animals, and novelty performers in Houdini stunts. Fortune tellers had a good run of business. Three separate establishments catered to credulous people the majority being females. Three beano games were in full swing with the tables filled. Pitching rings, throwing darts, knocking down the pins, bowling, racing the autos and similar games had the crowd going for plaster of paris dolls or fancy boxes of candy.

Harry Isaaeson had a good line of men's clothing and women's coats displayed on his auto store.

John Carrigan of Portland, one of the veterans, sold soft drinks and had a following of acquaintances gained in years of association with fairs over the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richardson of Norway catered with lunches, etc. They had a raft of business Saturday, being well known at this fair.

There were toy balloons for the kids, "kiss me quick" hat bands for the flappers and fancy canes suitable for sports of both sexes. Guessing your weight and mauling nails into a block were fairly well patronized. The blanket men were there and Skeetop, the Indian basket vender put out a tempting array of the sweet grass product.

The big money getters were two athletic shows. One down in the Green field had boxing, while Homer Truman, up on the main line, featured wrestling. The Truman show went into action late Saturday forenoon and had the crowd for hours. A ballyhoo of intense verbal activity collected a multitude around the front to enrich the box office at the arena.

Among the outdoor exhibits were L. M. Longley & Son, Norway, showing metal roofing; the Uniflow Pump Co., with a water system for farms, and several agents displaying new models of automobiles and trucks.

PLENTY TO EAT

The Ladies' Circle of North Waterford was on hand as usual with a tempting menu in the church vestry. Dinners were served Friday and Saturday to a large patronage. Mrs. Herman Holt, Mrs. Charles Hersey and Miss Marion Rowe were in charge with a busy corps of assistants. C. A. Hersey sold tickets at the door and George Kimball collected the pasteboards.

Down at Rice Tavern, so called, Mr. and Mrs. Will Rice of Lewiston served meals and had the house filled with boarders for several days. A large number of transients were also accommodated.

Mrs. Jennie McAllister served chicken dinners and had more than a capacity crowd.

Up in the grange hall the women of the order put on good oyster stews that appealed to a large number of hungry ones. Those in charge of this service were Mrs. George L. Kimball, Mrs. Susan Morse, Mrs. Annie Moulton and Mrs. Rilla Marston.

PULLING AND DRAWING

That this amusement is going into the discard may be a fact in some places, but not so in Waterford. The largest crowd in years found parking space by the roadside near the church, where the events are held. This year a partly successful attempt was made to hold back the people with wire strung on posts. Unavoidable confusion hindered the drivers of horses, and occasionally a car traveling over the road upset affairs. However, there was some good pulling and lots of fun.

The drawing of cattle was done Friday afternoon with the following summary:

EXHIBITION HALL

One of the best small fair exhibits was in place at Odd Fellows' Hall with Chas. D Morse and Mrs. Hazel Wardwell in charge. Waterford Grange and Round Mountain Grange of Albany, in friendly rivalry, occupied most of two sides, and divided by a general exhibit on tables in the center.

The arrangement was carefully planned with each article identified by a card, which added interest to the show and proved a convenience to those taking more than casual notice.

The Waterford Grange display had a background of fancy quilts in front of which were rows of jelly, canned fruit and vegetables. Home products and needlework were conspicuous. A show case was filled with home cooked food, steamed chicken, eggs, and butter. Outside and along the front were strings of crab apples, cranberries, tomatoes, onions and a monster pumpkin. Committe responsible for the nice display included Mrs. E. K. Shedd, Josephine Jordan and Hazel DeMerritt.

Round Mountain Grange had a background of quilts and blankets on which were pinned embroidery and crocheted pieces. There were shelves loaded with more than 150 jars and tumblers of jelly, fruit, berries and vegetables. Among the attractive bits of needlework was a silk scarf that occupied a conspicuous place at the World's Fair at Chicago. This was loaned to Waterford World's Fair by Mrs. Abel Andrews of Albany. Home cooking of pies and cakes were temptingly displayed. There were vegetables galore, showing that Albany farms though rocky, are productive. The committee in charge included H. W. Little, Roy Wardwell, Hazel Wardwell, Olive Little, O. E. Donahue, Edith Stevens, Leon Kimball, Wallace Cummings, Irving Beckler Alta Bird, Harland Bumpus, Dora Beckler, May Bean and Daisy Philbrook. The exhibit was given first prize.

E. E. Allen, East Stoneham, had the most complete showing of vegetables, comprising 27 varieties. Novelties were a tobacco plant some 7 feet tall, in bloom, and broom corn stalks not less than 14 feet tall. Mr. Allen not only received his share of prizes under the general award, but was granted a special prize for the size and quality of the exhibit.

S. L. Lebroke showed a nice collection of vegetables and 11 varieties of apples, besides canned goods.

Other exhibitors were divided as follows:

Fruit: Charles Hersey, North Waterford; A. B. Kimball, Bethel. Specimen apples: Charles Hersey, F. H. Morse & Son, A. B. Kimball, Arline Corbett, Blanche Button, Ella Rice.

Garden truck: A. B. Kimball, E. E. Allen, East Stoneham.

Potatoes: Alfred Hersey, E. E. Allen, Albert Rice, Charles Rice.

Display pumpkins, squash, cabbage, melons, tomatoes, onions, beets, carrots, cauliflower, peppers: Charles Hersey, A. B. Kimball, E. E. Allen, Alvan Hersey, C. D. Morse, B. E. Allen also showed Indian corn, white corn (trace); plums, Charles Hersey. Charles Hersey had seven kinds of pears.

Needlework: Wilma S. Brown, Harrison; Josephine Jordan, Arline Corbett, Ruth Morse, Mrs. Evelyn Miller, Rilla Marston, Carrie Moulton, Mrs. Ruth Wentworth, Mrs. A. B. Kimball, Nellie Stone, Mrs. L. E. McIntire, Will Moulton.

Flowers: Carrie Hersey, Dorothy Tucker.

Cooked Food, Nellie Stone.

School Exhibit: North Waterford Primary, teacher, Miss Marion Rowe. North Waterford Grammar, Mrs. Hazel DeMerritt, teacher.

Other exhibitors in fancy work, etc., Isabel Jones, Leslie Jones, Mary Hersey, Mabel Hersey, Minnie Guptill, Annie B. Hazelton, Richard and Rachel Rice, Mrs. Frank Pike.

Charles D. Morse had an interesting display of antique firearms and sabres. Guns were muzzle loaders, one carried a brass plate with figures 1778, said to be tre date of the make. A curious hand carved walking stick was a specimen of some jackknife expert.

Miss Hazel E. Bicknell, Norway, had samples of felt and velvet hats from her store, "The Fashion Shop," Norway. Miss Zilpha Bicknell was her assistant. She sold a good line of gift cards.

Roy Stearns, Norway, explained the good qualities of the Round Oak cooking range, using a sample from his stock.

The officials had their headquarters in one of the ante rooms where things were arranged to handle the affairs in a business-like way.

POULTRY SHOW

Thirty-two neat coops near the hall entrance made up the poultry exhibit, which was a great improvement over former years.

George Rice showed guineas, bantams and barred rocks; Stan Lord had bantams, S. C. R. I. Reds and Barred Rocks; C. A. Hersey offered Bantams, Guineas and Barred Rocks; the Holt farm featured Reds; R. E. Hubbard had Jersey Giants; Charlotte Fillebrown, S. C. Reds; L. R. Rounds Jr., Barred Rocks and Reds; Billy Fillebrown, Bantams and Rocks; Hugh W. Little, S. C. R. I. Reds; James A. Frisbee, White Wyandottes; Lord's Farm, S. C. R. I. Reds and White Wyandottes. The Wyandotte chickens attracted attention for their large size, being from a March and May hatch.

CATTLE EXHIBIT

Hitched to fences and trees near the church was the cattle show, with the drawing stock predominating.

The cattle entries include steers and oxen by P. H. Fogg, R. E. Allard, Bolster's Mills, E. S. Abbott, Norway, Carroll Penley, South Paris; Ernest Pike, Waterford; George Kimball, David McAllister, C. A. Hersey, North Waterford.

Exhibitors of neat stock included: Geo. Kimball, E. S. Abbott, Fred Wentworth, Ernest Pike, Carroll Penley, Charles Hersey.

SIDE LIGHTS AND OBSERVATIONS

The officials of the World's Fair Association are:

Pres.—W. A. Hersey.
Vice Pres.—M. F. Knight.
Sec.—W. L. Button.
Treas.—R. B. Knight.
Hall Supt.—C. D. Morse and Hazel Wardwell.
Poultry—C. D. Morse.
Cattle—Clinton Nason.
Pulling—George Stevens and Ernest Crouse.
Grounds—Otis Cobb.
Marshal—M. F. Knight.

Dances were held afternoons and evenings under the auspices of Waterford Grange. Newell Andrews' family orchestra furnished music that kept the crowd moving lively. Vaudeville numbers by a traveling company was an added attraction, Saturday night.

The premium ribbons gave out before the events were half over and many will wait for that prize. One official passed the remark that George Rice captured ribbons enough to make a quilt, so that caused the temporary shortage.

"Away flies the profits" yelled the balloon vender as a string of twenty inflated bladders slipped from his hand and soared skyward. The airship headed for Norway about 4 p. m., Saturday. Many are curious to know if the cluster has been picked up.

John Carrigan of Portland, middle aged but a veteran, pitched his tent in the Green field next to the old time pump. When questioned about the water wagon being next door, he passed along the information that the well didn't kill his business. Well said, for people walked past the water to buy his ginger ale and tonics. Every sport knows it's more fun to wet your whistle around the neck of a bottle than on the rim of a dipper or paper cup. Folks enjoy spending money and John was right there to capture his share of the spoils.

Two air planes hovered over the grounds Friday, apparently reconnoitering for a place to land. Both were flying low in circles but after a time started away in the direction of Norway. Advertising or publicity stuff is believed to be the reason for the visit.

Temporary electric lights installed in the midway proved a great convenience for all concerned. They were useful during the setting up, Thursday and Friday nights and in the tearing down, Saturday.

Charles H. George of South Paris, aged 92, was one of the youngest appearing visitors on the grounds. He kept away from the rides, but wandered among the shows and exhibits, evidently enjoying every minute. Mr. George would pass anywhere for not a day over 70 and spry at that.

Dionne of Lewiston, known for years as a boxer and wrestler, was Homer Truman's running mate in the wrestling show. He had the ballyhoo so strong that one good lady in the crowd called Sergt. O'Connell to stop a fight which she said was going on in the show. On investigation, the fight turned out pure bluff and part of the business of drawing a crowd.

Man So Nervous Feels His Stomach Jump

"I got so nervous my stomach felt like it was jumping. Vinol entirely relieved the trouble. I feel better than in years." —J. C. Duke.

Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. L. V. Ashton, Druggist.

A "used car" is unused transportation

A GOOD automobile is built to stand years of use. It will provide many thousands of miles of satisfactory transportation.

But only occasionally are all its years and all its mileage used up by one owner. Many owners turn their cars in after an average use of only two to three years—long before the cars' lives have been exhausted.

This custom brings into the market every year so-called "used" cars which represent outstanding opportunities to buy unused transportation at low cost.

Every year more and more people appreciate this fact. Today millions of families are driving cars of which they are the second or third or even fourth owners; and this year the volume of new car sales and trade-in transactions has created wider choices and greater values in unused transportation than ever before.

3 out of 5 buy used cars

THREE out of five of the cars you see on the road have been purchased as "used" cars. You cannot tell—nor do you ask yourself—whether the driver of any particular car is its first owner, or its second or its third, providing the car looks well and is running satisfactorily.

The cars which General Motors dealers have accepted in trade vary in name, body style and price. Some have seen sturdy service; in others the potential mileage has scarcely been touched. And all offer a wide field of opportunities—

To the family wanting transportation at lowest possible cost.

To the family wishing to own a car of a higher price class.

To the family needing a second or third car to meet the requirements of all its members.

We invite you to examine the unused transportation in the stores of General Motors dealers. For your convenience General Motors extends the GMAC Purchase Plan.

SPEAKER OVER PARTISAN

It has been called to my attention that a certain woman, representing herself as a representative of the W. C. T. U., secured permission of the superintendent of schools to talk to the scholars of the grade schools of Norway on the subject or Temperance. Proceeding along this line, she launched into a real and truly partisan political speech.

Although it is claimed she called no names, she was so clear in her inferences that some of the children to whom she talked, went to their homes and told their parents that the woman said that "Al Smth was a very intemperate and wicked man" and the children should tell their parents "not to vote for him."

The public schools are no place to conduct a campaign of politics or religion and I wish to declare most emphatically my disapproval of any such method of furthering the interests of either of the two leading political parties or any one or more of the religious denominations represented in our community.

I am surprised that any member of such an organization as the W. C. T. U. is represented to be should stoop to such a practice.

One could almost infer from such practice that some members of the W. C. T. U. could profitably apply a few of their remedies for intemperance as concerns the use of intoxicants to their own gross intemperance of trespassing on the very fundamental principles of our free institutions.—Albert A. Towne, chairman of School Board.

WANDERED FROM HOME

There was some excitement at Mrs. C. W. Chick's, Wednesday, as Mrs. Mary Churchell disappeared in the forenoon. Mrs. Chick's telephoned to the neighbors and tried to locate her, and after dinner, she telephoned to the sheriff. Mr. Walter Cullinan found her asleep by his wood pile. She was chilled and confused, didn't know her name or where she lived. They kindly took her in and got her warm and she went to sleep. When she awoke she told her name and where she lived and Mr. Cullinan brought her back to Mrs. Chick's. It is thought she started for Mrs. Abbie Tubbs, and not finding her at home, started home in the wrong direction. She must have slept several hours in the open without any wraps on. Mrs. Churchill is almost 88 years old.

NORWAY NURSING SERVICE

The executive committee met at the nurse's office Tuesday evening, October 2. The nurse's report for September is as follows: A larger number of bedside visits were made during the month. A total of 41 home calls were made, 29 of which were bedside calls to 12 patients. One of these was to assist the doctors with a hernia operation. Two were visits of investigation. Ten miscellaneous visits were made and 32 office calls attended to. Fees collected for the month were $8.50.

During the week of September 10, some time was spent in arranging the exhibit for the fair and assisting the State Department of Health nurses with the Child Health Conference. 52 babies were examined by two doctors, many of which were from Norway.

Mrs. Albert Sinks, wth Mrs. Alice McGouldrick, field secretary, met with the committee Sept. 15 to discuss the seal sale problem. Many helpful suggestions were given as to its conduction this year.

Mrs. Theresa R. Anderson visited to assist the nurse with the school program. Class room inspections began October 1 and this year monthly weighing will be done only on the underweight children.

Three classes in Home Nursing were held during the month,with a very good attendance.

At the five well baby conferences, the total attendance was 84, which includes 27 infants, one a new case; 6 pre-school, 11 school and 5 beginning school children. No conference was held at Norway Lake and Noble's Corner during the month.

CAR HITS TRUCK AND WOMAN HURT

Miss Mollie Downing, bookkeeper at the Jellerson-Rafter Company, was badly bruised, Wednesday evening, when the automobile in which she was a passenger, sideswiped a truck loaded with lumber. She was treated in Lewiston and removed to her home, 7 School Street, Norway, late in the evening, where further medical treatment was given. Her side was bruised as was one arm and finger, but no bones were broken.

The accident occurred on the Mechanic Falls road when the car attempted to pass a truck without lights, parked by the side of the highway. Other occupants of the car, Francis Ames, and his wife and baby all of Norway were not hurt.

It is believed lumber extending beyond the truck body was responsible for Miss Downing's injuries, and for the removal of the auto hood, wind shield and top.

TAME PARTRIDGE IS SHOT

"Pete," the tame partridge that has been the wonder and joy of all the guests at Cedarbrook Farb, has met his end. Some hunters, regardless of the fact that it was well known that the partridge spent his time in the grove around the Cedarbrook cottages, not only trespassed and shot the bird, which would go to meet anyone entering the woods, expecting his ration of berries, but in defiance threw his empty shell directly in front of the No Trespass sign right near where the few feathers were left.

It is a pity that people so hardened that the desires of others mean nothing to them have to live in a community of respectable people.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT

music store, and later after he had established himself with an increased practice he moved into the Stone Drug Store Building, taking the office formerly occupied by Charles F. Whitman.

My personal associations with him both socially and at the Bar, were of the most pleasant nature; he had a kindly, a friendly spirit, a gracious and a courteous manner; in fact, he was instinctively a gentleman. He was slow of anger, seldom, if ever, giving way to wrath. He had a keen legal mind, and comprehensive knowledge of legal principles, which made him an antagonist to be reckoned with in litigation before the courts. Judge John F. Hill, of Portland, once paid him the compliment on a bankruptcy hearing that involved a somewhat lengthy and unusual examination of the Bankrupt, conducted by Mr. Conary; saying that it was one of the keenest, most intelligently, and artfully conducted examinations he had ever heard in a long experience before the courts and as Referee.

He loved the profession of law; he was ever faithful to his clients interests, and had he had his health and that control of himself which good health might and doubtless would have gone along with it, he would have attained a high position before the Bar of this State.

He was not perfect, and would not claim it for himself, but let him among us who is without fault, cast the first stone.

He was faithful to his clients, a faithful and a loving husband and father. He was faithful to his friends. and ever grateful for any kindness shown to him or to his own.

But — — —

The grim reaper whom we call death picks where he will, and we are powerless to prevent him. It is indeed hard to fully understand the Devine Plan. When some particularly useful member of society is taken from among us, even tho' advanced in years, we are often prown to inquire why that life of usefullness and service might not have been spared, yet a few years longer to serve in the Kingdom of men upon the earth, and when one is cut off in the flower of youth or young manhood, we are almost stunned and question why.

And so these exercises in memory of Brother Swasey, the oldest member of our Bar at the time of his death, the nestor of our Bar, as we have been pleased to call him, who leaves us ripe in years and rich in honors, and of Brother Conary, one of the youngest members of our Bar, whose career and opportunity for service has been cut short so suddenly, cannot but remind us most forcefully that "The young may die, the old must die and the wisest knoweth not how soon," and may well serve to remind us further that we who are permitted by the kindness of Providence to remain with unfinished tasks to perform, may with profit to ourselves, the community and those whom we may seek to serve, emulate the fine qualities which eack in his own way possessed.

A Tribute by Justice Dunn

Gentlemen have already spoken of the life and the virtues of Wilfred G. Conary, who died a member of the Oxford Bar, to which he came from the Bar in Penobscot. In remembrance I bring a few simple flowers.

His backgrounds were New England. His people were Yankee folk in Blue Hill, Maine. Country-bred and country-schooled, he was another of the courageous young men of his generation who believed that love of country supported by sacrifice is a people's highest ethical expression. He proved his patriotism. When the very principles for which our country stands, the principles for which the ocean was crossed more than three hundred years ago, were at stake in the latest war, Wilfred Conary put aside opportunity to prosper in worldly goods, and yielded his time, his property, and risked his life in absolute contempt of danger.

The web of his life, like that of most of human beings, was of mingled threads. His natural traits had been cultivated by training; his moral. attributes indicated kindness and courtesy; his intellectual, self-reliance.

As a lawyer he met duty with resolve. Socially and fraternally he will be missed in many circles.

Having served his day, by the will of God he fell asleep.

The first case that started Wednesday morning and continued until late Thursday forenoon was an action for double damages for alleged trespass brought by Arvi Haverinen against Andrew Ohtonen. The plaintiff charges that the defendant removed and sold twelve cords of hemlock and poplar from land alleged to be owned by the plaintiff.

Both parties live on adjoining farms in Greenwood on the Richardson Hollow road to West Paris. The land is part of the old George A. Cole homestead, as formerly occupied by the father and son. The action developed from a dispute over a divisional line, which appears to be a misunderstanding brought about during a period of years in several conveyances not clear as to boundaries.

The plaintiff claimed a certain fence as the dividing line, which the defendant alleged is a "fence of convenience" and not the original line. Many old deeds were put in evidence to show that the division was on a range line several feet from the "convenient fence." Wood cut on this disputed strip and sold is the bone of contention.

Much of the testimony was given through interpreters and necessarily dragged. Charles A. Andrews of Oxford testified that he made a survey for both parties, and re-located the range line, which the plaintiff, it is alleged, does not accept.

Frank Morey of Lewiston is for the plaintiff and Alton C. Wheeler of Auburn for the defendant.

It is expected the grand jury will report late Thursday or Friday forenoon.

COLOR

Enters the Cellar

A BLUE boiler—yes, shiny sparkling blue! A new note for the modern cellar that is spreading over town like a blue streak!

In designing this boiler for greater beauty, the Richardson & Boynton Co. retains the greatest time-tested principle of home heating—the round fire pot. The same proven principle that has made "Richardson" boilers famous for years. The square jacket simply means extra insulation and extra heating efficiency.

Brighten your cellar—and lighten your coal bills—with this new boiler. Get an estimate now—the cost is no greater than for the ordinary good boiler. And what a difference!

George Stevens has recently completed a lamp, the base of which he made by hand, and which is very pretty. It is painted black and decorated with hand painted flowers, with shade (also hand decorated) to match, so nicely is it done that it resembles back ebony and is very nice. He also is making other ornaments which are very attractive and difficult to make. Tiny castles to be used for paper weights, with steps and rocks and winding paths, among them is one larger than the rest, with a tiny lake which resembles Lake Pennesseewassee, with the island in the distance, the grey rocks around the castle, the tiny bridge which crosses a brook winding down between the rocks made it a very pretty piece of work.
